

February 23, 2016

Product Availability / End of Life

As long as there is demand on a standard product, PUI Audio will not discontinue or obsolete a product for a minimum of 5 years. If for whatever reason we do have to discontinue a part, we will have an alternative available and provide our customers with a minimum of 90-day notice along with a last time purchase option. PUI Audio continuously monitors the supply chain to ensure that our products will be available and provide the highest level of service.

Sincerely,

Barry Ricks
Director of Engineering & Operations